This story was originally published in Day One, a weekly literary journal dedicated to short fiction and poetry from emerging writers.

The fear that his specialty is simply pseudoscience, and a lack of funding for it, drive a frustrated neuroscience PhD candidate out of the lab and into the world. There he finds that a mindfulness craze is sweeping Manhattan. To capitalize before the fad goes out of style, he and his fellow researcher, Bradford, develop a peculiar new kind of consulting firm. Imitating monks and spouting new age platitudes, they investigate the authenticity of corporate wellness coaches. Soon they are denouncing one enlightened being after another, but when they meet their most enigmatic yogi yet, the two must consider the reality of their own lives—and even faith itself.

Wry and timely, Mind Assured, Inc. asks, Is it possible to tell the difference between a genuine guru and a phony?
