Christian Discourses & The Lilies of the Field and the Birds of the Air & Three Discourses at the Communion on Fridays Soren Kierkegaard

Toward the end of his life as a Christian thinker and writer, Søren Kierkegaard (1813-55) became convinced that Christianity could be understood best in terms of intimate individual religious experience. This collection of his writings centers on the great experience of forgiveness of his sins that came to Kierkegaard at Easter in 1848. His profound religious experience of that Holy Week for the first time made 'direct communication' possible to the author. These discourses are therefore personal revelations.
